

Test, Measurement and Control Solutions for Demanding Applications

Coda Octopus Martech Ltd (Martech) Strategic Response to the Corona Virus / Covid-19 Pandemic.

UPDATE Martech 24th 2020

Following instructions from the UK Government to stay at home, as of Tuesday March 24th, Coda Octopus Martech Ltd (Martech) is pausing its operations. This is being reviewed continuously, particularly whilst there is some ambiguity in the government's directions; we expect the advice to become clearer in the coming days.

Whilst all of our customers and contracts are extremely important, our priority and moral obligation in the short term is to protect our staff and their families, and to try to lessen the impact on the NHS. Our hope and aspiration is to ensure that we are better able to resume operations and meet customers' needs when the threat subsides.

Notwithstanding the above, we acknowledge that some of our customers are engaged in areas that relate to Public Safety and National Security, and that they may in turn be reliant on Martech for some aspect of these critical activities. If this is the case, we will endeavour to support you as far as we are able; please contact me as soon as possible to discuss.

We are monitoring the situation constantly to ensure we comply with best practice and government advice. For updates, please visit <https://www.martechsystems.co.uk/about-us/contact-info/>

We thank our customers and suppliers for their ongoing support.

We thank our staff for their commitment.

Paul Baxter
Managing Director
March 24th 2020.

